Hundreds come to claim the marvelous bargains we now offer.

Down came the avalanche of bargain-seekers and set the wheels in motion. Ladies stopped at the various counters, looked, debated: "Can it be true!" Such goods, such prices; every day is greater than its predecessor; such values were never equaled in Decatur.

A big Cloak Manufacturer goes to the wall and O. M. Anstead grasped the opportunity of buying ($3,198) Three Thousand One Hundred and Ninety-Eight Dollars' worth of Cloaks at a fraction on the dollar of the first cost.

DEMOCRATS DUMPED.

Crushing Rebuke to Grover and His Famous Platform.

A CLEAN SWEEP AT THE POLLS FOR THE REPUBLICANS.

Anarchist Altgeld and the Gang Knocked Out in Chicago.

Republican Office Crowded Till Midnight to Hear the Bulletin Read.

"Awful" Says the "Review." We Say It is Simply Glorious.

Something dropped at the polls in thirteen different states yesterday.

It was the first chance the Republicans have had since the '92 landslide for Grover and the south, and the way the Reps. put it on to the Democrats was a settler, and shows what a glorious upheaval for protection, good government, and prosperous times there will be in '94 and '96.

And even the Democrats are ready to say: "It's all right. We deserved it. Our leaders have proven themselves failures. They are no good. They deserve the rebuke."

In '96 they will get it again where the broken got the ax, and the Republicans will be at the feast occupying front seats.

RECEIVING THE NEWS.
The Decatur newspaper offices were open last night to receive the news which came by telegraph in bulletins from Chicago. The Republican office was where the crowd gathered. All of the other offices were comparatively deserted.

Only a few of the hang-on Democrats remained at the sick office to figure on the probable Republican majorities. There were many vacant chairs at those places. But at the Republican office the crowd extended out on the sidewalk. Inside every inch of space was taken and the reading of the bulletins was heard with keen interest and pleasure. When the glorious news came in from Ohio, where the issue was plainly defined on the tariff, and was really of national importance, ringing cheers were given for McKinley, protection and good times to come, with the Democrats out on the grass seeking liver and corn bread, or trying to find remnants of the painted roosters they wore on their hats in the fall of '92. It was a jolly crowd. All were willing to stay up all night, but soon after 12 o'clock, when everybody was satisfied beyond doubt that there had been a clean sweep wherever the Republicans had made a fight, it was voted to adjourn, and the lights were turned out.

THE FEELING TO DAY.
Go where you will, the Republicans are smiling and happy.

And the Democratic business men and working men, who have felt the sting of the paralyzing free trade doctrine enunciated with such a great flourish in the Chicago platform, on which Grover and his party got into office, are to-day feeling that there are brighter times ahead for them, but they will not and can not come fully until general confidence is restored by again placing the Republicans in charge of the affairs of the country.

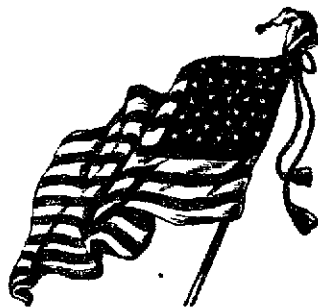

To-day the Democrats know about how the Republicans felt last fall.

Just take a look at the figures on the election, so they appear on our telegraph pages, and you will see how the Democrats in Ohio, New York, Iowa, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Illinois were walloped.

Keep in line. Get in shape for the greater Republican victories to occur in Illinois in '94 and '96.

LATEST GOOD NEWS.

Judge Gary Elected in Chicago
---Illinois All Right.

McKinley's Plurality Placed at 80,000 in Ohio.

Confirmation of All News to Make Glad the Hearts of Republicans.

[SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN]
CHICAGO, Nov. 8—2 p. m.—Herewith is given a condensation of the very latest election news received at headquarters up to 1:30 o'clock this afternoon.

JUDGE GARY ELECTED.
HIS MAJORITY RANGES FROM 5,000 TO 12,000.

Chicago is reclaimed by the Republicans. Judge Gary is elected. Only a portion of the county ticket is lacking—nine precincts. Gary's majority now is 4,900. The missing precincts will raise the majority to 5,000.

Still Later—Complete returns show that Gary's majority is 12,000. The only Republican defeated was Kraft, supposed to be a Socialist.

80,000 FOR MCKINLEY.

McKinley's plurality in Ohio is now placed at 80,000.

LATER—Corrected returns show McKinley has 80,000 plurality and 39,000 majority over his three opponents.

NEW JERSEY.

Republican legislature elected. Surprising Republican gains.

IOWA, 40,000.

Democrats concede Jackson's election by 20,000. Republicans claim the state by 40,000.

LATER—Republican plurality will be forty thousand. Jackson ran five thousand behind because the balance of the Republican state ticket was voted for by the Prohibition Republicans. The legislature is Republican, probably local option.

PENNSYLVANIA 100,000.

Pennsylvania has gone Republican by fully 100,000. Philadelphia went 50,000 Republican.

MARYLAND.

Democratic ticket elected. Democratic mayor at Baltimore by 6,000.

NEBRASKA.

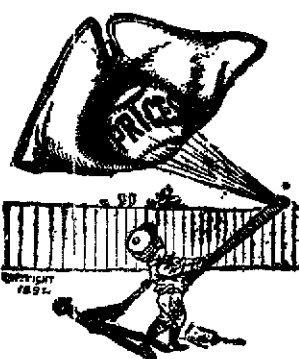

In Nebraska the Republicans elected everybody except the supreme court judge, which is still in doubt with the chances favoring Harrison, Rep.

MICHIGAN.

Griffin, Dem., probably elected to succeed J. Logan Chipman for congress.

NEW YORK GAINS.

Returns show the election of 74 Republicans and 54 Democrats to the General Assembly.

TWO VESSELS SUNK.

Sent to the Bottom by a Collision in a Fog

AND TWENTY-FOUR PERSONS DROWNED

One of the Steamers Goes Down Immediately, the Other Soon Following—The Crews Take to Boats, One of Which is Lost.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., Nov. 8.—By a collision between the Western Transit Co. steamer Albany and the Anchor Line steamer Philadelphia, off Point Aux Barques at 2:30 yesterday morning, twenty-four lives were lost and both steamers were sunk in 200 feet of water.

The two boats were running in a heavy fog about seven miles off Point Aux Barques. They had been going slowly and the watch felt fairly safe when, at 2 o'clock, both vessels came together without a second's warning. Almost at once the Albany began to sink and all hands were transferred to the Philadelphia. The deserted boat went down with a rush, but a few minutes after her crew, who knew, as though by instinct, that the vessel was lost, had managed to get safely aboard the Philadelphia. It was soon apparent to the officers of the Philadelphia that that boat had been severely damaged in the collision, for she presently began to sink. The two crews then launched their boats and dropped over the side into the water. Not half an hour after the collision the Philadelphia, too, was at the bottom of the lake. The two boats sank in 200 feet of water.

The first boat, which contained twenty-three persons, including the captains of both vessels, reached shore after a pull of about five hours. The second boat, containing twenty-four members of the crews of both vessels, was lost sight of in the fog, but as the lake was calm it was believed the men were in no danger. As morning wore on, however, and the second boat failed to make its appearance, the life-saving crew of Point Aux Barques was sent out in search of the missing life boat. The life-savers found the boat about eight miles from shore, bottom up. Eleven bodies wearing life preservers were found floating in the vicinity, and these were picked up and sent to East Tawas on the City of Concord. Not a survivor could be found, and it is supposed that the other occupants of the boat were no life preservers, and went to the bottom at once when it capsized.

Nearly all the dead and missing men were shipped from Buffalo. The corner at East Tawas last evening began an inquest over the remains of the eleven bodies recovered.

Both captains refuse to make any statement as to the particulars of the disaster beyond saying that it was unavoidable because of the dense fog, and that fog signals were exchanged previous to the collision.

The Philadelphia struck the Albany, it is said, head on just forward of No. 2 gangway. The shock was felt in every timber of the both vessels, and their sides rang with the vibration. Every man was instantly alive to the fact that something of an unusual nature had happened. Those who were awake made ready for work at once, and those who slept needed no voice to arouse them. In ten seconds the hands of the Albany were making ready to leave the boat, and a few seconds later they were safely aboard the vessel that had struck them. The conduct of the crew was admirable, and the captain has no word but of praise for them.

Trying as was the situation it was a thousand times worse some minutes later when the sailors on the Philadelphia saw that their own ship was doomed. They had ample time, however, to make ready the boats for the escape and when they had finally left the Philadelphia nodded once or twice in the fog and went to the bottom.

The men in the boat that landed at Point Aux Barques make no complaint of hardships. Their stay upon the water was short but long enough under the circumstances. Every man of them says that the sinking of the Albany was one of the quickest things he ever heard of. The vibration of the shock had scarcely died away when the vessel went over. As the sailors said: "She went down like two tons of lead."

The Albany was bound from Chicago to Buffalo with grain and general merchandise and the Philadelphia was bound from Buffalo to Duluth with coal and a miscellaneous cargo. Both were steel steamers. The Albany was built in 1887, was worth $20,000 and is believed to be partly insured. The Philadelphia was built by David Bell, at Buffalo in 1897 and was valued at $80,000.

The Albany left Chicago Saturday evening and had on board 250 barrels of flour, 17,000 bushels of corn and 75,000 bushels of oats. The grain was shipped by Richardson & Co. The steamer was in command of Capt. McDonald, who has been in the service of the Western Transit Co. for over ten years. He is known as one of the most careful navigators on the lakes. The Philadelphia was commanded by A. E. Huff, a young man.

It is believed that both the Philadelphia and Albany are insured in London Lloyd's for nearly their full value. The grain on the Albany was covered by Chicago companies.

Senator Voorhees

Mr. Voorhees is suffering from a slight attack of his old-time enemy, the rheumatism, but hopes to get rid of it within the next two or three weeks.

POLICEMAN VS. SHERIFF.

The Appointment of Special Policemen and Deputy Sheriffs in Camden

Leads to Trouble

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 8.—As a result of the appointment of 200 democratic special policemen and as many republican sheriffs, election rows were frequent here yesterday. Nathan Dyke, colored, had his throat cut by Michael Kelly, white, and may die. Others are severely wounded and more are expected to be heard from. The prisons are filled with men who are cut and bruised.

A serious affray occurred yesterday morning at Seventh and Clinton streets, the polling place of the third precinct, ninth ward. John Jackson, a colored deputy sheriff, challenged the vote of a white man, whereupon the former was set upon by several policemen who beat him with blackjacks and placed him under arrest.

Shortly afterward at the same place, several colored deputy sheriffs and a like number of white special policemen got into an altercation, during which three of the deputies were shot. One of the negroes, Samuel Fuller, was shot in the head, the bullet plowing a furrow under the scalp. George Denks, another colored deputy, was shot in the leg, and William Beale, also colored, and serving in the same capacity, was shot in three places, but is not seriously injured.

Edward Dreher, a white deputy, was also badly beaten, and he and Fuller were lodged in the police station. The cutting of Dyke occurred early in the morning in a "drive" at Seventh and Sycamore streets, and was the outcome of a row over politics. Kelly, assailant, was arrested.

William Harvey, a deputy sheriff, attempted to prevent an alleged illegal vote being cast yesterday afternoon and was set upon by a mob and badly beaten with clubs and blackjacks. After his injuries were dressed he was arrested. About twenty deputy sheriffs are under arrest. Detachments from the various companies of the Sixth and Ninth New Jersey national guard which are located in this city were on guard at the armory, but were not called out by the governor.

THE EDNA GOLD MINE.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
Information comes from Denver, Col., to the effect that recently Manager Nugely and Secretary Day and the other officials of the Edna Gold mine property, in the Sugar Loaf District, Boulder county, have made an important discovery. The valuable vein in the mine has been located on the hillside where a tunnel can be run to the vein striking it 150 to 175 feet below the main shaft. There is a big saving, and nearly all of the force is now at work on the tunnel. Work is still going ahead on the main shaft. Manager Nugely is at the mine all the time. Everything looks bright. October 1 shares in 100 blocks were advanced to 25 cents each; for cash shares in 1000 blocks can be had for a short time at 10 cents. Money is needed for rapid development. The gold ore now being taken out of the shaft is worth $60 a ton. Adjoining properties are shipping wood one every day. C. E. Day, secretary; J. J. H. Young, Decatur agent. dtf

An oil painting of James G. Blaine, which has been presented by subscription to the Lincoln Club of Cincinnati, was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies recently.

THE REACTIONS.
The result of yesterday's elections from a party standpoint is good. From a patriotic standpoint it is magnificent. It shows a return of a people to sound economic who were misled into the belief in 1890 and in 1892 that this country could become more prosperous under a system by which we buy our manufactures from abroad instead of making them for ourselves. The grandest tariff law, because it was the most systematic and logical, the country ever had, was the tariff act known as the McKinley Tariff law. Under it industries were stimulated and hundreds of new factories were built, resulting in the employment of hundreds of thousands of workmen, which made the year 1892 the most prosperous year the country ever had. But "Jeshurun waxed fat and kicked," and the result was that the country bartered away prosperity for suspension of business, idleness and prostration. This was the logical result of the threats made by the Democrats that they would rip up protection.

The people saw their mistake and anxiously awaited an opportunity to express their change of mind at the polls. That opportunity came yesterday and the people have spoken at the ballot box in accents that cannot be mistaken. They have served notice upon the party in power that they do not want the business and prosperity of the country ruined by the barren theory of tariff for revenue only. This was true in a special sense in Ohio, where McKinley, the author of the tariff, defeated by a phenomenal majority Lawrence T. Neal, the author of the free trade tariff plank in the last National Democratic platform. It is a notice upon the present impotent congress and the administration that no tariff tinkering is wanted or will be permitted. It also serves notice upon the maligners of the motives of Mr. McKinley in arranging a tariff, and upon the demagogues and sapsheads who sought to create prejudice against the law bearing his name by referring to it as McKinleyism, that the author of that bill, if he lives, will succeed Grover Cleveland as chief magistrate of this great nation. The country is to be congratulated upon the results of yesterday's vote because it means that the country, as soon as the constitutional limit will permit, will correct the mistake it made in 1892, and will not repeat that mistake until another generation arises that "knew not Joseph."

Lost in New York.
The thrilling aquatic spectacle, "Lost in New York," comes to the Grand Opera House next Monday evening, and we are promised one of the best scenic productions of the season. The play made a most pronounced "hit" here last season, when it was seen for the first time. The company carries two car loads of special scenery painted by New York's greatest scenic artist, Mr. Arthur Noyes, of the Madison Square Theatre. Among the principal realistic features of the production are a vast river of real water containing 60,000 gallons, a full rigged yacht, rowboats, ferries, and a practical steamboat that runs at full speed, carrying 20 passengers.

Wreck at Moberly, Mo.
The Wahash Cannon Ball No. 6 last night at 10 o'clock ran into a broken switch a mile west of Moberly, Mo., and the engine was turned over, catching Fireman Malone. Escaping steam scalded him so badly that he died in a few hours. The engineer was only slightly bruised. The express jumped the track over forty feet, and the messenger, L. Pauley, was badly bruised. The train is due here at 6:15 a. m., but did not arrive until 11:25. Messenger Pauley is in the city to-day.

Elected Probate Judge.
Frank M. Ford, brother-in-law of Ald. Holman, was the Republican candidate for probate judge at Zanesville, Ohio, yesterday. To-day in answer to a telegram of inquiry Mr. Holman received a message from Judge Ford stating that he had been elected by 800 majority. Good enough.

THE FAMOUS PONY EXPRESS.

West, Hard and Dangerous Riding With Letters for the Gold Miners.

The regular work of the daring and romantic overland Pony Express riders has never been exceeded, even by the recent specially trained for long distance riding of the German and Austrian army officers. When it is considered that those Pony Express riders traveled over a wild country, without bridges, or even roads deserving the name, crossed two great mountain chains, vast alkali deserts and had to fight Indians and wolves along much of their journeys, and that the average time made was two hundred and fifty miles a day, it will be seen that even the governments which pay attention to such matters have no such courier system to call upon. But this system was organized for the accommodation of the gold miners of California, who were able and willing to pay, and in fact did pay, five dollars for each half ounce of mail brought to them from the old folks at home by the daring Little Pony Express riders. Each rider was limited to fifteen pounds of mail, which was divided into four packages of equal weight and carried in saddle pockets, two in front and two behind the rider. So it will be seen that each rider carried mail for which the company received twelve hundred dollars. In addition, of course, to the United States postage.

The route of the Pony Express began at St. Joseph, Mo., and extended west to Fort Kearney, Neb., thence up the Platte river to Julesburg, Col., across the Platte and to Fort Laramie and Bridges, Wyo., and on to Salt Lake, Utah. The descent into the plains of Nevada was made by the route through Ruby Valley and thence along the Humboldt river. The Sierra Nevada was crossed by way of Canon City. Placerville, then known as Hangtown, and the Sacramento Valley, reached by the road the miners had made down by Folsom to Sacramento, and thence along the valley and over the foothills into San Francisco, where the long journey ended.

There were always eighty riders in the saddle, forty going east and forty west. Change stations were close together, especially over the mountainous sections, as the ponies were kept at top speed from station to station no matter what kind of country they had to travel. Many of the brave light weights, who rode in the Pony Express service lost their lives in Indian fights, for the gentle red man seemed to esteem it a peculiarly high honor to dangle an express rider's scalp at his belt.

The wonder was that the service was kept up at all; that so many of the riders escaped the Indians, the dangers of flood, storm, snow, heat and cold. Their chief advantage in encounters with the Indians was that the Pony Express riders were always better mounted, on better fed horses, than the Indians, and could take care of themselves in a chase. They were a wary and experienced lot and difficult to ambush, so that while an occasional scalp was lost there were not many of the letters longed for which never came over that dangerous route.

The Pony Express went out of existence when the overland railroad and telegraph service was completed in 1869. Few of the old riders are still living, and the promoter of the scheme, William H. Russell, and his chief assistant, D. F. Dicklin, are both dead. N. Y. Sun.

ANTI-SEMITISM IN SWITZERLAND
A Law forbidding the slaughter of cattle by the Jewish method.

The new law just adopted in Switzerland which forbids the slaughter of cattle by the Jewish method has naturally caused the greatest indignation and consternation among the 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants of the Hebrew faith. The law is to this effect: "The killing of animals without their being stunned before blood is drawn is forbidden, without exception, whatever be the method employed." Not a word in this enactment alludes directly to the Jews, but its object was avowedly anti-Semitic. Promoted by societies which ostensibly have no other purpose than to prevent cruelty to animals, it is declared to be really the outcome of an anti-Semitic agitation imported from Germany. The victory was chiefly gained in the German cantons, where Jewish trade competition is most severe. Zurich, Bern, Aargau and Thurgau. Those of Latin kinship—Valais, Neuchâtel, Geneva, Vaud and Fribourg—aided with the cause of popular liberty. Only about half the population—300,000 out of 800,000—went to the polls. Even of this number it is supposed that but a small percentage realized what they were voting for. For twenty years an agitation has existed on the continent for the prohibition of the Jewish method of slaughtering animals, on the ground of its alleged cruelty. The movement met with a cold reception in the Berlin parliament. In Saxony it had better success. There the Jewish "shechita" has been declared illegal by an order of the minister of the interior. The agitation next spread to Switzerland. The German societies for the protection of animals induced the municipal governments of Aargau and Bern to issue a similar order, but the national council revoked it. The cantonal fathers then carried their case before the federal assembly, which confirmed the action of the council. Thereupon the agitators availed themselves of the referendum. It is worthy of note that the anti-Semites found their warmest support among the Lutheran part of the population, but were opposed by the Roman Catholics.—N. Y. Post.

THE REACTIONS.
The result of yesterday's elections from a party standpoint is good. From a patriotic standpoint it is magnificent. It shows a return of a people to sound economic who were misled into the belief in 1890 and in 1892 that this country could become more prosperous under a system by which we buy our manufactures from abroad instead of making them for ourselves. The grandest tariff law, because it was the most systematic and logical, the country ever had, was the tariff act known as the McKinley Tariff law. Under it industries were stimulated and hundreds of new factories were built, resulting in the employment of hundreds of thousands of workmen, which made the year 1892 the most prosperous year the country ever had. But "Jeshurun waxed fat and kicked," and the result was that the country bartered away prosperity for suspension of business, idleness and prostration. This was the logical result of the threats made by the Democrats that they would rip up protection.

The people saw their mistake and anxiously awaited an opportunity to express their change of mind at the polls. That opportunity came yesterday and the people have spoken at the ballot box in accents that cannot be mistaken. They have served notice upon the party in power that they do not want the business and prosperity of the country ruined by the barren theory of tariff for revenue only. This was true in a special sense in Ohio, where McKinley, the author of the tariff, defeated by a phenomenal majority Lawrence T. Neal, the author of the free trade tariff plank in the last National Democratic platform. It is a notice upon the present impotent congress and the administration that no tariff tinkering is wanted or will be permitted. It also serves notice upon the maligners of the motives of Mr. McKinley in arranging a tariff, and upon the demagogues and sapsheads who sought to create prejudice against the law bearing his name by referring to it as McKinleyism, that the author of that bill, if he lives, will succeed Grover Cleveland as chief magistrate of this great nation. The country is to be congratulated upon the results of yesterday's vote because it means that the country, as soon as the constitutional limit will permit, will correct the mistake it made in 1892, and will not repeat that mistake until another generation arises that "knew not Joseph."

Lost in New York.
The thrilling aquatic spectacle, "Lost in New York," comes to the Grand Opera House next Monday evening, and we are promised one of the best scenic productions of the season. The play made a most pronounced "hit" here last season, when it was seen for the first time. The company carries two car loads of special scenery painted by New York's greatest scenic artist, Mr. Arthur Noyes, of the Madison Square Theatre. Among the principal realistic features of the production are a vast river of real water containing 60,000 gallons, a full rigged yacht, rowboats, ferries, and a practical steamboat that runs at full speed, carrying 20 passengers.

Wreck at Moberly, Mo.
The Wahash Cannon Ball No. 6 last night at 10 o'clock ran into a broken switch a mile west of Moberly, Mo., and the engine was turned over, catching Fireman Malone. Escaping steam scalded him so badly that he died in a few hours. The engineer was only slightly bruised. The express jumped the track over forty feet, and the messenger, L. Pauley, was badly bruised. The train is due here at 6:15 a. m., but did not arrive until 11:25. Messenger Pauley is in the city to-day.

Elected Probate Judge.
Frank M. Ford, brother-in-law of Ald. Holman, was the Republican candidate for probate judge at Zanesville, Ohio, yesterday. To-day in answer to a telegram of inquiry Mr. Holman received a message from Judge Ford stating that he had been elected by 800 majority. Good enough.

THE FAMOUS PONY EXPRESS.

West, Hard and Dangerous Riding With Letters for the Gold Miners.

The regular work of the daring and romantic overland Pony Express riders has never been exceeded, even by the recent specially trained for long distance riding of the German and Austrian army officers. When it is considered that those Pony Express riders traveled over a wild country, without bridges, or even roads deserving the name, crossed two great mountain chains, vast alkali deserts and had to fight Indians and wolves along much of their journeys, and that the average time made was two hundred and fifty miles a day, it will be seen that even the governments which pay attention to such matters have no such courier system to call upon. But this system was organized for the accommodation of the gold miners of California, who were able and willing to pay, and in fact did pay, five dollars for each half ounce of mail brought to them from the old folks at home by the daring Little Pony Express riders. Each rider was limited to fifteen pounds of mail, which was divided into four packages of equal weight and carried in saddle pockets, two in front and two behind the rider. So it will be seen that each rider carried mail for which the company received twelve hundred dollars. In addition, of course, to the United States postage.

The route of the Pony Express began at St. Joseph, Mo., and extended west to Fort Kearney, Neb., thence up the Platte river to Julesburg, Col., across the Platte and to Fort Laramie and Bridges, Wyo., and on to Salt Lake, Utah.
